CALL 1943 THE TOWNSMAN

Fitting tribute to the memory of Andover's war dead was paid in traditional Memorial day exercises last Friday as veterans' organizations honored departed comrades with solemn ceremonies.

Despite the threat of leaden skies the route of the annual parade was lined with spectators who turned out to witness the various rituals held at the Memorial Hall library, the Memorial auditorium, and the Memorial Tower at Phillips academy.

Headed by a police escort, the board of selectmen, and a fire department escort, the chief marshal, Mrs. Ethel St. Jean and staff of commanders from the local veterans' organization, the parade formed in three divisions as follows:

Board Of Trade To Close Season

The final meeting of the Andover board of trade for the current season will be held Tuesday, June 10 with a lobster salad supper at the Log Cabin.

There will be a speaker, election of officers and final reports from committees. As this will be the last general meeting of the season a large attendance is expected.

New Building Operations Brisk

The estimated value of new buildings for which permits were issued during May was $136,100, almost twice as much as that of a similar period a year ago. The estimated cost of additions and alterations for last month was $33,450., making the total estimated cost of building operations $169,550 for May.

Up to the end of last month permits for 50 new dwellings had been issued by Building Inspector Ralph W. Coleman, almost double that of a year ago.

Building operations here continue brisk. For the past five years the number of permits for new buildings has been more than 600, and at the present rate there will be more than 100 new dwelling units constructed here this year.

The permits issued last month were as follows:

New Buildings, residence and garage; George C. H. Dufton, Dufton rd., Charles B. & Shirley J. Wilson, Shipman rd., Leslie & Elizabeth Packard, 75 Shawsheen rd., Eugene & Mary Germaine, Tewksbury st., Leonard & Claire Potvin, River rd., Sebastian & Anne Ciccazzo, Central st., Charles W. West, Lowell st., John & Dorothy Guild, Chandler rd., Dufton Construction Co., Beech circle; Herbert & Florence Anderson Jr., High Plain rd.

Howard & Mildred West, Haggitt's Pond rd., 2-stall garage; Archibald & Helen Maclaren, Reservation rd., residence & garage; Joseph & Irene Jarbeau, Boston rd., hen house; Antonio & Camella Bellia, Greenwood rd., hen house; Robert Colonbosian, Argilla rd., cellar.

Abbot Alumnae Elect Officers

Officers of the Abbot Alumnae association were elected at the Alumnae day annual meeting last Saturday with Mrs. Russell T. Loesch presiding.

The new officers are; President, Irene Atwood of Boston; vice presidents, Mrs. Edward W. Nutting of Newton, Mrs. Leonard W. Henry of Weston and Mrs. B. W. VanWart of New York; clerk, Mrs. Theodore Atkinson of Winchester; treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson of Andover.

Local committee chairmen who made reports included Miss Jane B. Carpenter, Mrs. Hezekiah Poor, Mrs. Webster E. Plaistead and Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson.

Miss Kate Jenkins of Andover, who celebrated her 75th reunion, was presented with a corsage at the meeting.

Luncheon was served in Bailey dining hall after which class fund secretaries made reports.

Mrs. Phillips B. Marsden of Andover was in charge of the floral decorations and alumnae headquarters and Bailey dining room. General arrangements were in charge of Jane Sullivan, executive secretary.

Edward A. Doherty, 125 N. Main st., a Punchard graduate, was elected teacher-coach at Punchard and other teacher-coaches were re-appointed by the school committee Tuesday night.

Doherty, former B.C. star, coach at Rhode Island State and former coach at Arizona State, will receive $3550 as teacher and $1200 as coach. He succeeds Walter I. Roberts, who has accepted a coaching position at Belmont, and will begin his duties next September.

Kenneth C. McKinery was re-elected basketball coach, and Robert J. Collier re-elected junior varsity basketball coach.

The resignation of Miss Barbara Eldredge of North Andover, teacher of third grade in Shawsheen was accepted. She has been appointed a teacher in North Andover. Miss Maureen P. Higgins, cadet teacher at the Stowe school, was named third grade teacher at Shawsheen.

Herbert W. Sullivan of Apponaug, R.I., was elected junior high science teacher for the eighth grade.

Supt. Kenneth L. Sherman read a letter from the commissioner of education complimenting the Andover school committee on the excellent annual report it filed.

Supt. Sherman spoke of the large increase in school population which would soon require additional school facilities. More than 200 will enter the local schools this fall while only 81 will graduate. He said the Bradlee school in Ballardvale and the Shawsheen school are overcrowded.

Phillips Academy To Graduate 225

Phillips academy will celebrate its annual Alumni day and commencement on Saturday and Sunday June 7 and 8. Alumni day on Saturday will have as its two highlights the Alumni luncheon and the 72nd Andover-Exeter baseball game. The Alumni luncheon will be the first event ever to be held in the new Memorial gymnasium erected in honor of Andover's alumni who were killed in World War II. The featured speaker at the luncheon will be Winthrop H. Smith, of the class of 1912. More than 1200 alumni and parents are expected to attend.

At 3 p.m., Saturday the Andover and Exeter baseball nines will clash in the 72nd renewal of their old rivalry. Washed out by last Saturday's rain, the game is rated (Continued on Page 11)

Ash Leaf Fungus Causing Damage

G. R. Abbott, moth superintendent, today issued the following statement:

Ash leaf fungus is now causing the leaves of the ash tree to turn black and fall to the ground. This fungus disease like many others develops in the spring during long periods of wet weather.

Ash leaf fungus first attacks marsh grass where it spreads to the ash tree leaves. They act as a host plant for the disease. This disease does not spread from one ash tree to another but each tree is infected from spores of the marsh grass that has the disease. After developing in the ash tree leaves this fungus must be carried back to the marsh grass to complete its life cycle.

This disease is not usually serious each year but during a wet spring like the present one it causes a strain on the tree by forcing it to send out a second crop of leaves. Several sprayings in the spring with a fungicide, keeping the leaves covered while they are developing to full size, would control this fungus but few citizens could afford the expense.

COURT ST. MONICA

Miss Katherine Dwyer, state regent of the C.D.A., will be the guest at the installation of the new officers of Court St. Monica, at 6:30 p.m., Monday, in St. Augustine's school hall.

Miss Anna Greeley is chairman assisted by Mrs. Mary O'Neill, Mrs. Frances Keaney, Mrs. Mary Tammany, Mrs. Rita Sweeney, Miss Connie Calcini and Mrs. Mae Gillooly. Mrs. Marguerite Greenwood is in charge of reservations.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Andover's Little League Cardinals earned an 8-6 victory over the Lawrence Giants when they played their first home game Monday night at the playstead.

A parade from the central fire station with the players riding on the ladder truck preceded the opening. Selectman Roy E. Hardy brought greetings from the town to the players and Frank L. Brigham threw out the first ball, after the ceremonies had been opened with a flag raising and remarks by Commissioner Charles O. McCullom, who expressed his thanks to all those who have worked so hard to bring the Kiwanis sponsored Little League to Andover.

The Cardinals went into the fourth in a 2-2 deadlock but with an outburst of basehits and a bit of wildness on the part of the visiting pitcher emerged from the inning with five more runs.

A Look At Capitalism

The Exchange, a publication of the New York Stock Exchange, recently carried an article called "A Clergyman Looks at Capitalism," by the Rev. Edward A. Keller, director of Notre Dame's bureau of economic research. He had these very pertinent remarks to make concerning capitalism and the attacks upon it:

"False propaganda blames our capitalistic economy for every existing evil - from athlete's foot to broken homes.

"Actually, however, capitalism, as it has developed in this country over the past century has operated primarily in the interests of the vast majority of Americans - not in the interest of a few 'bloated plutocrats.'

"It is surprising, to say the least, that union leaders, who talk so loudly about partnership status for the workers and who huri against business charges of 'exorbitant' profits, refused to invest union funds in the shares of the companies for which they work. If they wish to share in management and in 'excessive' profits, they can do it the American way, by the purchase of ownership in American business and by the assuming of the risk inherent in such ownership. The large unions have sufficient funds in their treasuries to elect a union representative to the board of directors by the purchase of stock.

"Apparently, their 'class-conscious' opposition to management is the real stumbling block to their doing what is very much in the interest of their members."

Regardless of labor-management fights and strikes and all the rest, the American workers enjoy a living standard unknown in other lands - and the capitalist system, with its emphasis on freedom for both labor and business, is responsible for that. And no group has a greater personal interest in perpetuating that system than labor.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago - June 1902

John Hutcheson thinks the box of strawberries he picked here Monday must be about the first of the season in Andover.

Andover won the annual track meet at Exeter last Saturday by the narrow margin of two points, 53 to 51. In the evening the Andover boys celebrated with the usual bonfire, procession and speeches. During the celebration the old board running track was being torn up and burned when a section of it fell as it was being placed on the fire, injuring two boys.

Several young people from Andover and Lawrence enjoyed a buck board ride to Bald Pate at Georgetown, Memorial day.

The selectmen Monday night revoked the franchise of the Haverhill-Andover road up Elm street, the time having expired in which the road was to be in operation.

W. A. Schick Jr., of Harvard, formerly of Andover, defeated by Arthur Duffy of Georgetown in 100-yard dash at the Mott Haven games Saturday. Duffy ran the distance in 9 3/5 seconds, breaking the world's record. Schick's time was 9 4/5 sec.

Very enjoyable strawberry festival held at the South church last Tuesday evening under auspices of the C. E. society.

Members of the Gen. William F. Bartlet post 99, G.A.R., and the Walter L. Raymond camp 111, S. of V., with veterans of the Spanish war carry out Memorial day program with parade and the decoration of graves.

Number of small pox patients in town increase from three to eight. Many places fumigated by the board of health and compulsory vaccination order being generally complied with.

25 Years Ago - June 1927

Three veterans of the Civil War participate in Memorial day exercises at the town hall. Audience was small owing to the absences of school children on account of the numerous cases of scarlet fever in town. Cmdr. Ralph Berry of the American Legion presided. Day was ideal for parade, one of the finest ever held here.

Three Providence, R. I., people injured when auto in which they were riding was jammed between another machine and an electric car on Main street near Punchard avenue.

NEW BOOKS

I Never Grew Up, Wright;
Cobina Wright, famous for her talents as hostess, musician, writer, entertainer, was a victim of the '29 crash, and went from great wealth and happiness to a penniless state. This is her own story.

I Live Again, Ileana, Princess of Romania;

The great grand-daughter of Queen Victoria and daughter of Marie, queen of Romania, is a princess who does her own work in a modest home in Newton, Mass. Here she tells her experiences in the last war, her attempts to live with communism, and her escape to America.

Through Charley's door, Kimbrough; "Charley's Door" was the fashionable entrance to Marshall Field & Co., in Chicago. As doorman, Charley knew the carriage trade by name. It was here that Emily Kimbrough went to work in the advertising department. Inner workings of a large department store are exposed to view.

Nell Gwyn, Royal Mistress, Wilson; A brisk biography of "Nell Of Old Brury," the cockney girl born in London slums, who started in theatre as an orange girl and became mistress of merry King Charles II.

Duveen, Behrman;

Joseph Duveen, the most spectacular art dealer, dealt in such fabulous transactions with men of great wealth that his story reads like a fairy tale.

Elizabeth The Queen, Crawford; Crawfie, for two decades friend and guide to England's royal family, tells the story of the new queen, from her little girlhood up through her Canadian and African trips. She has included a brief biography of other English queens before Elizabeth II, with charts.

being turned over to men and boys. Eastern Mass. Street Ry., has ordered 50 new deluxe cars.

Wardens and vestry of Christ church accept with regret the resignation of the Rev. Albert C. Morris as pastor. He is now an army chaplain in Delaware. Was first appointed rector in October, 1937.

Surprise "blackout" here last Tuesday evening a fair success. Many volunteer workers, not knowing exact date of test, were out of town.

About 25 members of the local motor corps are practicing foot drills every Wednesday evening at the Memorial auditorium.

J. Augustus Remington elected president of the Andover Service club.

Mrs. Edward J. O'Connor elected president of the Shawsheen P.T.A.

Mrs. Fred Collins of Summer st., elected president of the Andover Mothers' club.

Ten classes return to Abbot for annual reunion with the president, Mrs. Mildred Frost Eaton, presiding.

Oswald Spengler, Hughes; An examination and evaluation of Spengler as an historian, diagnostitian, prophet - and absorbing analysis of his "Decline of The West" (1918), that sombre study of the doom of our civilization.

The Great Rascal, Monaghan; Anyone who ever read early dime novels will thrill to the story of this adventurous sailor, Indian fighter, trader, blackmailer, author, soldier, the Ned Buntline who created the characters for Sweet and Smith's growing market for dime novels.

Service Club Enjoys Clambake

The Andover Service club closed its present season with 110 members attending an old-fashioned seaweed clambake Wednesday evening at Sid White's Wild Rose farm.

With the sports committee of George Follansbee, Walter Pearson and Harold Wennik in charge, clam broth, steamed clams, lobster, chicken, sweet corn, hot dogs and dessert prepared by Dr. Ray S. Youmans and Osborne Sutton were served in the pine grove in the rear of the farm buildings. The food was prepared on an outdoor fireplace in the grove.

Members assembled earlier in the afternoon for this annual outing and election and engaged in soft ball, horseshoe pitching and ping pong prior to the meal.

Officers elected were: President Will G. Brown Jr., vice presidents, Edward A. Romeo and Irving Whitcomb; secretary and treasurer, James R. Mosher; directors, Harold E. Haseltine, the retiring president; Burton Jenkins, Dr. Charles H. Black Jr., Robert MacMackin and George Follansbee.

This concludes the club's activities until next September.

Winners of the various sports contests were: baseball, White's Holsteins captained by William R. Hill, 11 runs, over Holland's Bankers, captained by Augustine Faragher, with eight runs; golf driving contest, R. J. Mirisola, first; Walter Tomlinson, second; golf pitching, Kirk Batchelder and Lee Noyes.

Casting, Carl Elander, horse-shoes, C. Edward Buchan and James Christie as runner up; obstacle race, Harry Stephenson; three-legged race, Henry Hopper and Frank De Clemente; darts, Roy E. Hardy; milking contest, Will G. Brown Jr.; table tennis, doubles, Walter Pearson and Edward Doherty; singles, Harold E. Heseltine.

Music Week At St. Augustine's

Music week at St. Augustine's school was observed recently with pupils taking part in several events culminating with Joseph Pellegrino and Lorraine Des- Roches receiving high awards after playing at Emmanuel college, Boston.

The first event of music week was when the piano pupils took their written examinations in theory and harmony. The next day all participated in a piano concert in which an award was given to the most proficient player in each grade.

The winners were: second grade, Michael Perry; third grade, Thomas Shann; fourth grade, Judith Doucette; fifth grade, Carol Reidy; sixth grade, Mary Thomas; seventh grade, Carol Waldie and Cynthia Homsey; eighth grade, Joseph Pellegrino and Gloria Stanley.

Robert Shann was awarded a prize for the best duet which he played with his brother.

On Friday four pupils were chosen to go to the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston, to join with 2000 elementary school children of the archdiocese in a Pontifical Mass sung in plain chant. Those chosen were: Robert Walsh, Paul Duchene, Jane Young and Carol Waldie.

In the same week Joseph Pellegrino received a silver pin and Lorraine DesRoches a silver medal after playing numbers by Bach, Mozart, Grieg, Sinding and Sibelius at Emmanuel college.

Sportsmen To Hold

McDUFFIE - WIGGIN

In the Village church in Annisquam at a 4 o'clock ceremony Saturday, May 31, Miss Isabel Simson Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Sherburne Wiggins, 2 Chester square, Annisquam became the bride of Dr. Frederic Clement McDuffie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennett McDuffie, 19 School st. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Morris Reed Robinson of Lincoln assisted by the Rev. Charles B. Bowser of Lawrence, uncle of the groom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white embroidered swiss organdy over satin, an old Brussels lace and tulle veil and carried an old fashion bouquet of stephanotis. The maid of honor, Deborah Wiggins of Annisquam, and the bridesmaids, Sarah W. McDuffie, Joan Gale, and Martha Tyler all of Andover, Mrs. Roderick Kingman Macloed of Wellesley Hills, and Mrs. Bernard Hasson Jr., of Silver Spring, Md., were gowned alike in shaded blue bouffant tulle, ballerina length, carried old fashion shaded delphinium bouquets and wore matching flowered headbands.

Charles Howard McDuffie of New York was best man, while the ushers were Jerome E. Andrews, Andover, Dr. John C. Gould, Fort Wayne, Ind., Dr. Brian Kiely, Cincinnati, O., Frederick R. Drayton Jr., Haverford, Pa., Dr. Charles F. Zukoski, III, Birmingham, Ala., and Edmund F. Leland II, New York.

The church was decorated with lilies, snapdragons and lilacs.

Mrs. Wiggins, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue lace dress with a flowered hat in pastel shades. Mrs. McDuffie, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light blue lace dress with matching hat.

Following a reception at Norwood Heights, Annisquam, the couple left on a wedding trip to Jamaica, B.W.I. Upon their return they will reside in Boston, where Dr. McDuffie will be a junior resident at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital in July.

The bride is a graduate of Abbot academy, Edgewood Park Junior college and the Garland school. The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Paul's school, Harvard college, class of 1946 and Harvard medical school, class of 1951.

BATHING HAZARDS AT POMP'S POND

An appeal is made to children not to use the bathing beach at Pomp's pond until the official opening June 22. There will be no lifeguards there until that time, and there is the additional hazard of rocks, broken glass and debris collected during the winter which will be removed by the lifeguards for the opening.

third division, Sacred Heart school band, All Women's post, American Legion, Legion post 8.

The Disabled American Veterans conducted services at the library, the Veterans of Foreign Wars conducted the ceremonies at the auditorium where Frederick S. Allis Jr. of Phillips academy was speaker at the main memorial service of the day, and the American Legion was in charge of the rites at the Memorial Tower.

As the parade moved into Central street the D. A. V. unit went into the Old South cemetery where services were conducted at the post lot.

The parade continued to the Baptist church where it disbanded. Then the various units continued to the cemeteries, the D. A. V. going to St. Augustine's, the V. F. W. to West Parish and the Legion to Spring Grove where simultaneous services were conducted at 11 o'clock.

All details of the parade were carried out without delays under guidance of the Memorial day committee. This was made up of Francis P. Markey, veterans' service officer, chairman, and the commanders of the different veterans' posts.

What Is Lobster O'Neill?...

"Lobsters may be taken at any season — but are considered in best condition in summer." (Research Report 7, Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of Interior.)

As the King and Queen of crustaceans, Lobster deserves royal treatment — and receives it at Allenhurst, where Lobster O'Neill was born.

For years many people held an unreasoning resentment, even antipathy, toward Le Bel and La Belle Lobster because of the armor, particularly the well sheathed claws. These people (and who doesn't?) loved baked stuffed lobster. It's the alpha and the omega of dining delight.

But the detractors didn't want to clash with those claws, especially in a restaurant where bits of this and that became unguided missiles, however ingenious the tools provided by the management. The result: Spotted suits and, worse, ladies' gowns; embarrassed explanations to the neighboring diners, sometimes three tables or booths removed. Sure. Fingerbowls were provided but a pail would have been better.

So these suffering souls and it's not fair to call them introverts or cowards, sulked and resolutely eschewed the baked stuffed lobster they yearned for in favor of the comparatively hazardless lobster salad, fried lobster, lobster stew — all delicious but not the crustacean at its succulent, savory best, to many of us.

And then like the birth of the blues, there burst upon the Allenhurst clientele—Lobster O'Neill. Mine Host Sotir C. Adams of Allenhurst will tell you later how it got that name, but this grateful scribe is intent only on recounting how this method of serving the meat from the claws, baked along with the stuffing in the body of the lobster, has released from the bondage of self-denial countless lovers of lobster served in the royal manner.

Why, with Lobster O'Neill, one needs scarcely to lift his knife (they're that tender at Allenhurst), let alone trying to remain suave and sympathetic to your dining companion while wielding those cracking and excavating tools of torture that used to be standard equipment.

Now, at long last, we come to the naming of Lobster O'Neill. Here's how Mr. Adams of Allenhurst tells it: John (Tip) O'Neill, now a retired official of the Peabody Electric Light Department and a long-time patron of Allenhurst, gave this delightful variation of baked stuffed lobster the title that is destined to bring him imperishable fame in a detached sort of way.

Our Mr. O'Neill was under even more business pressure than the average person, during the war, because of the nature of his work (and who of us wasn't subjected to some form of nervous tension?) and when he could get away for the occasional luxury of a fine meal, he still had to ration (a familiar word: remember?) his time. So he conferred with the Allenhurst chefs. How could he get a baked stuffed lobster without the time-consuming, patience-exhausting business of cracking the claws, etc., etc.? They suggested the advance removal of the luscious claw meat, and the cooking of it with the rest of the crustacean.

Mr. O'Neill's delight knew no bounds. His enthusiasm was contagious. First his friends, then their friends and families were calling for Lobster O'Neill. Then complete strangers were demanding the word-of-mouth advertising being what it is.

No man to fly in the face of fate, or to try to bail out the sea with a sieve, Mine Host Adams put "Lobster O'Neill" on the menu. Perhaps it isn't yet a household phrase but if the test of fame is imitation, the competition, it "arrived," in the lexicon of the show world, at least three years ago.

Oh, yes, there's one more thing Adams of Allenhurst wants to make clear, and the word "clear" is used advisedly. He insists, and any layman would ever quarrel with him on such matters, only OCEAN CLEAR lobsters, the most select specimens spawned by the sea, give you truly unforgettable LOBSTER O'NEILL. Of course, OCEAN CLEAR lobsters are served at Allenhurst.

It's really not fair to dismiss "OCEAN CLEAR" lobsters so lightly, either. Not only are they the best trapped in the cold, crystal waters of the Provinces, but they are kept that way until they reach Allenhurst—they're never stored or "held" in inner harbor pools thus exposed to oil or other pollution. This is the reason that sweet, full-meated, tender OCEAN CLEAR lobsters bear the seal of approval of the American Medical Association's Council of Foods.
